

1A Tse Sum Yin, Sammi

My New Life in SKH Li Fook Hing Secondary School

My name is Sammi and I study in class 1A. My school's name is SKH Li Fook Hing Secondary School. I feel great studying here because I feel it is the start to a new life. First when I came here, I felt scared, but now I feel happy because I have friends.

I like my new school because it is very big. The school has an Art room, a library, two computer rooms. It was just freshly painted and looks very colorful. Another reason why I like my new school is because I have made lots of new friends like Stephanie, Angel, Queenie, Tianna and Wendy. The teachers are also nice. The classrooms are big and I like to study here.

I am so excited to be here for the 20th anniversary of our school. I am happy that I take part in the different activities, in fact, I have joined the 20th Anniversary Musical – 'Beauty and the Beast'. I hope I will continue to learn a lot and have a lot of achievements.

2B Chow Yuen Ping, Angela

The person I admire in school

Dear Chris,

As you know I've changed to a new school this school year. My new school is SKH Li Fook Hing Secondary School. It is located in Chai Wan. I have studied here for more than three months. I have made many good friends here. In fact, I have met an incredible person I admire in school – she is Principal Cheung.

I have many chances to meet Principal Cheung. She sometimes appears in the Morning assembly. I always meet her in many different places at different times in school. She had visited our B.F. and Information Technology lessons. I think she cares about our studies.

I have chances to meet our principal personally because there is a good custom here in LFH. The new coming pupils can have lunch with our principal. In September, I was invited to join the lunch with her. She cares about us very much. She asked us about our school life, favourite subjects and interesting habits. I also asked her many questions about this new school. She was very kind to answer me, that made me feel comfortable and I like to study in this school.

Last week, I just had another chance to have lunch with her because I am a member of the Smart Team in our school. She asked me about the work of the team. I told her about the coming camp of our Smart Team. There were some difficulties in organizing the deal with problem. This boosted my confidence to continue my work in the Smart Team.

As a new pupil in the school, Principal Cheung encourages me a lot both in study and other aspects of my life. I think I can study better in this school and have a good school life.

Who do you admire in your school? Write soon!

Best wishes,
Angela Chow

What Makes a Successful LFH Student?

Have you ever wondered what successful students do? There is no magic trick, power drink, or special gadget to help students excel in the classroom. How can a student succeed then? The key is simple.

First, study hard. To do this, you must find a studying method that suits your learning style. It is important to be aware of your learning style, so that you can best tailor your study to suit your needs. I'm a physical or kinesthetic learner. I always use my body to help me memorize notes, I walk while I am studying. If you could find your studying method, it will be easier for you to revise. After finding the studying method that best suits you, you still need to pay attention in class. It's important for your study too, ask the teacher if you have questions immediately so you can learn effectively. If you can find your study method and pay attention in class and review diligently, you can get good grades and be successful!

Besides, a successful student stands out and they can take charge of their time and their tasks without relying on anybody else to tell them what to do. Being self-disciplined is important too, successful students do not rely on parents or teachers to tell them when assignments are due or when dates are approaching. Also, successful students take charge of their lives and balance their time between fun and work.

Third, be polite. How can we be polite? First, smile. You will look polite when you give a real smile. Second, compliment people, appreciate and give positive comments or compliments to your peers. Third, offer help to people. Even if you don't like to help people, you should provide help quietly and humbly – This way, people will develop trust in you. Fourth, avoid continuing a bad conversation.

At last, having a positive mindset and applying your positive attitude is important. Becoming a student isn't about the grades only, it is also about your mindset. A positive person appreciates happiness, health and success and believes that you can overcome any obstacles and difficulties.

Therefore, don't use your magic tricks, power drink and special gadgets; follow my key and become a successful LFH student!

My Fondest Moments in LFH

Time flies. I could still remember when I first became a F.1 student, it all seems like yesterday and now I am a F.4 student. I have studied at LFH for three years. Throughout these years, different wonderful things happened in my school life.

One of my fondest moments in LFH was the Sports Day. Lots of students feel excited about it, including me! On Sports Day, teachers, helpers and the five House Captains would go to the stadium early to prepare for the decorations of their designated cheering corners. At around 7.45am, all the other students got into the playground. The opening ceremony would start. Then the competitions would begin one after the other. We always focus on popular events like the sprint and long-distance running. I belong to the Acuity House. My house members and I have cheered for our club's athletes fervently. I enjoyed cheering for my schoolmates very much, I felt I was part of a big team. The members in different houses also ploughed into the cheering. We were proud of our athletes as well as our cheering teams. On the second day, we would have an award giving ceremony. We don't usually care too much about the results as what matters more to us is always the friendships we have built and the never-give-up spirit we have nurtured.

Open Day is another great event I enjoyed a lot in LFH. On Open Day, my duty was to welcome guests and introduce our school to them. I was happy to serve them because they can know more information about our school through my introduction. Also, our school would invite famous people to the school to hold a talk to share their experience. In addition, different clubs and societies would introduce their clubs and hold games to attract the visitors. I was glad to see kids who visited our school enjoying the games very much. I think having an Open Day allows not only the guests to know more about our school, but also makes us – students proud of our school!

My school is just like another home to me. Teachers and classmates are like my family. When I am down, they console and encourage me. When facing challenges like the DSE, we work hard together. I have learnt and gained a lot here and I would like to say, LFH is a great place!

LFH - a place that nurtures me for my future

Are you wondering how to choose your right career? Studying in SKH Li Fook Hing Secondary School (LFH) for five years, this is one of the most popular questions that is raised by teachers, counsellors or even our principals whenever I have a chance to talk to them personally. I understand why they ask. They want LFH students to be well-equipped with extensive knowledge and skills that get LFH students ready for their career pursuits. And if you are looking for the reasons why and how LFH shapes us to be an proactive person and why being active in school life can help our career preparation, here is the answer.

Let's begin in the year when I first came to LFH. Do you think that I was a student with courage and confidence when I first came to this school? Of course not, the truth is I was a boy who was afraid of accepting different challenges. Every time teachers gave me homework, I would always think how to avoid doing the homework by saying different excuses. Soon my problems were spotted and my class teacher helped me deal with them. Luckily, the school teachers taught me how to face my homework and to have the right mentality I should possess in doing homework and projects. I have become more positive in my learning and tried to do my work seriously. Right now, as a Form Five student, I have learnt the benefits of doing homework and treated homework as a crucial tool to test my understanding. Every time I can solve the questions and get praise for my homework, I gain more confidence that I am able to learn and can solve questions as long as I put effort, time and courage in it.

Learning the right way to solve problems is only the first step of being an proactive person and you do not need to worry, school doesn't teach less. As I mentioned above, I have already known the benefits of being positive but not realized the benefits of being active and how this attitude can help my future. Fortunately, another teacher helped me to learn more about this. In the first school term of Form Five, with no special reason I was assigned to join the English Speech Festival. At first, I was so upset why I always had such kind of 'precious chance' that I did not appreciate at all. At the beginning, I thought it was a waste of time and the benefit of joining the Speech Festival was only to learn more about pronunciation. Yet I was wrong. After the Speech Festival, I realized that joining the competition not only improved my speaking skills, but also widened my horizons and more importantly, granted me a chance to show my abilities and unlock my talents.

After that Speech Festival, I realize that such a chance is not always waiting for you to take, you need to fight for it. Now, I am the member of Debate Team, Gardening Club and Prefect Team. This is what the school teaches me how to be a proactive person. It helps me to have chances to find out about my talents and my capacity, which leads me to understand myself better and know which career path I may take and prepare for my career in the future. So now, step out of your comfort zone and take the first step to start an active school life in LFH.

Thanks to my alma mater - LFH

Guests-of-honour, Principal, Vice Principal, Parents, fellow Form Six students.

Good morning, I am Chan Kwun Shing from Class 6A. Today, it is my greatest honour to deliver the graduation speech on behalf of all Form 6 students. Time flies, it's very hard to believe that the day we have our learning journey in LFH has eventually come to an end. Today, I am not only going to conclude our 6-year school life in LFH, but also to give our heartfelt gratitude to our dearest school. For this moment, let's just set aside the sad feeling of separation and enjoy the moment that we're all sitting here together to celebrate our achievements with our beloved parents and teachers.

Do you still remember the musical we had when we were in Form 2? It's absolutely a great memory to all of us, especially that this was the last musical which involved the whole form 2 students in the school. Do you remember the moment that the school announced the musical we would put on the stage for that year? Everyone was so excited and a bit worried because it was an energetic and fabulous musical that was well-known and popular among the teens around the world, it was the High School Musical (HSM). At that time, we understood that it was a big challenge to us as the songs and dance numbers were so challenging to manage or practice well. However, 'Together Everyone Achieves More', we worked as a TEAM and successfully staged HSM. I remember a line from the musical, 'When the going gets tough, the Tough get going'. Yes, the situation can be difficult, but WE, LFH students, are tough people who will be fully engaged and never give up until we succeed. Hope this experience will be etched in our memory forever and teach us how to face our difficulties in the future.

Apart from the sweet memories we have gained in LFH, I'm sure you will not disagree that we're so grateful that we have met the unsung heroes in this school. Who are these unsung heroes? Of course, they are the teachers and our principal who pay their fullest effort and time to bring us up as to be who we are today. Do you remember the day you first entered LFH? How timid and how less confident we were at that time? It is the teachers who have helped us to build our confidence in both our learning and participation in activities. They even treat us as their own children and give their very best to us. LFH are a group of people who are very nice, kind-hearted, they really love and care every student in the school. They accompany us no matter we are experiencing ups or downs. When we are sad or unhappy, they share our worries and sadness. They would never show their tears after listening to us, they just give us courage – courage to get up when we are down, and this can definitely let us go on again. Thank you so much, teachers, we can absolutely feel being loved and cared for here in LFH. Your words and encouragements are always the biggest support and inspiration to students in LFH.

The days we have in LFH will soon end. To be frank, I have started to miss those activities that the school has arranged for us - Sports Day, Singing Contest, Services, Life-wide Learning Day, Inter-class Competitions, Talent Show,....so on and so forth. There are so many good memories that LFH has given us. Many of my graduated friends tell me that the university life will be more fantastic and wonderful. I don't pretty agree, the feeling of having six hundred students joining in various activities in LFH is irreplaceable. Thanks LFH for creating so much wonderful, colourful and precious memories during our secondary education.

As what I have been repeating in this speech, we will soon have to part with our beloved teachers, friends and everything in LFH. Although it's sad, at the same time, it's a new page of our journey. With what we have learned in LFH, a place which is full of Love, Faith and Hope, I'm sure that we will not let our teachers and our principal disappointed with what we do in the future. We promise that we will remember our alma mater's motto: Work With Prayer. Finally, I sincerely hope that all graduates will head towards a bright future and lead a meaningful life and wish LFH all the best in its future development. Thank You.